Data Dimensions Leverages Availability to offer Multi-Payer Provider Engagement Portal

JANESVILLE, WI (April 2018) - Data Dimensions, a leader in business process automation, has automated the entire transaction lifecycle – from purchasing through payment -- with Dimensions360, its Workflow for Accounts Payable.

Dimensions360 allows organizations to increase control, transparency and flexibility, automating the processing of their purchase order and non-purchase order invoices through the use of flexible workflows and a central dashboard.

Data Dimensions President and CEO Jon Boumstein said the company's AP Workflow can streamline an organization's entire transaction process. "Data Dimensions combines decades of experience with a commitment to continually evolving, leading-edge technology. The result is a solution that can

Data Dimensions' AP workflow, which can reduce costs up to 60 percent, also offers these advantages:

- Improved visibility via dynamic reporting and user-friendly dashboards
- Enhanced information control and regulatory compliance
- Accelerated invoice turnaround, which eliminates late fees and helps capture early payment discounts
- Improved access to data
- Access to line-item detail without the need for internal manual data entry

Data Dimensions' Workflow is one of many elements of its comprehensive Intelligent Shared Services, which also includes a complete, end-to-end centralized mailroom; a print & mail solution artificial intelligence, DD BillPay for finance, which maximizes supplier payments by replacing paper checking with electronic transactions.
